

Are your staff prepared for Supported Decision Making and/or Guardianship and Administration Matters?

These workshops can assist your staff to know more about:

- Supported decision making
- Substitute decision making, particularly for health matters
- Assisting clients when their decision-making capacity is impaired or questioned
- Enduring Power of Attorney (EPOA) and Advanced Health Directive (AHD) documents, and how they relate to health decisions
- What to do if decision makers may not be acting in the client's best interests
- Statutory agencies eg. Office of the Public Guardian, Public Trustee and Queensland Civil and Administrative Tribunal (QCAT).

Why is this training important?

Staff require an understanding of their legal and ethical responsibilities when working with clients who have questioned capacity. This knowledge can ensure they are protecting their client's rights maintaining appropriate relationships with interested parties, and practicing professionally.
